Veil Revives and Wins the Hunter Handicap in Fine Style-Error About Jockeys Proves Costly to Bettors.

New York, October 10 .- Racing conditions at Belmont Park today were ideal. The sport was first class despite frequent upsets. Racegoers were plussed by Veil's sudden improvement in the Hunter Handicap, which was a hard-fought and spectacular struggle from start to finish.

The steeplechase was replete with incident and ecidents. Every horse but Sandy Creeker, St. Nick, Lizzie Flat and Touchwood ran away a half mile or more to a false start.

The winner turned up in Sandy Creeker, who was immediately disqualified for running the wrong course. There was no elimination of the boggy far turn today. The rider of Sandy Creeker didn't know this and cut the corner as in the race previ

The Italian jockey, Luigi Masnada, figured in the false break, and later fell with his mount, sustaining an injury to his left leg, a small bone being broken.

A singular case of neglect or oversight on the part of some of the employes of the Westchester Association occurred in connection with There were only three starters. the fifth race. Lane Allen, Miss Crawford and Sea Wall and the former, won with E. Dugan up. The official jockey board had Sumter posted as the jockey riding Lane The official memoranda furnished to the bookmakers also contained the same misinformation. At the last moment there was a burried effort to rectify the error, but it came too late. The fact that E. Dugan rode Lane Allen became quickly noised about and created a sensation. Thousands of bettors backed Miss Crawford from the notoriously inconsistent W. W. Darden's stable at odds on and ignored the consistent Lane Allen, laboring under the mistaken impression that Miller was opposed by a novice instead of E. Dugan.

The bookmakers' slips in the last race also erred in having the distance at six furlongs instead of

James B. Brady was a well supported favorite the first face of the day, but second to The Squire was the best he could do, the determining factor being Buxton on his back against Miller on The Squire. With riders exchanged, the result would have been the other way. The 60 to 1 shot

Hollister was a good third, but Senator Barrett. much fancied by many, retired to obscurity after being prominent in the early running.

A band of three-year-olds under education at jumping, contested the short course steeplechase that was second on the day's program. They were decidedly unruly and all but Sandy Creeker, Touch wood, St. Nick and Lizzie Flat indulged in a half mile breakaway at full speed before the race proper Sandy Creeker went well throughout and, in a gam stretch effort, outfooted Touchwood and came in first but had gone outside of the course on a turn and was disqualified. Touchwood took the race by this and showed himself to be a promising young ing by a wid St. Nick was a bad third. Three fell. Motor, Lizzie Flat and Hayseed and all of this un lucky trio are deemed promising.

Sir John Johnson took the third race for Mr. San ford. His victory was not unexpected, he having been well backed and going to the post second choice to Robert Cooper. He got into the lead early and won all the way in the style of a good one. rank outsider, Father Koffee, was backed from 100 to 1 to 50 to 1, and finished a good second in a game finish. Castlewood, Carrollton and Robert Cooper were next in a lapped-on bunch behind him and he might have hurt some of the bookmakers' feelings had he finished first.

James R. Keene's fast filly, Veil, with eight pounds in her favor, defeated the crack filly, Gold Lady, in the Hunter Handicap at a mile. Veil had not been running well in her most recent races, but she ran a fast mile here and has evidently recovered her good form. Gold Lady was taken back saved to the stretch, then came on very fast into Danoscara a close-up third. second place, with Kennyetto ran a fast three-quarters in the lead and quit, something decidedly different from her running at Saratoga.

LATONIA FAVORITES FAIL AGAIN.

Cincinnati, O., October 10.—Big fields made up today's card and the defeat of six favorites proved disappointing and costly to bettors. The victory of Convolo in the feature race, at a mile and a sixteenth, was unpopular. On his previous show ing he was not considered seriously and was at all times the outsider in the speculation, preference being accorded Lexoline, Light Wool and Polly Prim. The trio failed to get a place, Convolo. Prim. after showing the most speed throughout, winning by a small margin from Lady Esther. From the press stand it appeared as if Light Wool had finished third by a safe margin, but the judges were of a different opinion and gave that position to Edwin Gum.

Rough riding on the part of Pickens, astride Warner Griswell in the fifth, was partly responsible ncompassing Beau Brummel's defeat and also for Hazel Patch's failure to make a better show-ing. He crowded the pair dangerously to the inner rail just before rounding the stretch turn and to themselves from going over the fence. and Brown, the riders of Beau Brummel and Hazel Patch respectively, pulled back sharply, Hazel Patch especially suffering by the mishap. Pickens was fined $50 by the judges for his foul riding.

Miss Padden, in the fourth, was the lone choice to get home in front. She was a handy winner from the start. C. Koerner, who rode her, also won on McChord in the last race, after a sharp tussle to wear down Merrick. Koerner resorted to a sharp trick after drawing level with Merrick The rejuvenated Clifton Forge by bumping him. found it difficult to overcome the interference he was subjected to and gave the favorite players their first setback by his failure to get a place in the opening dash, No Quarter, a frequent disappointment, taking the purse from Bensonhurst.

A field of fourteen again faced the starter in the econd, and, like the preceding race, the favorite failed to finish in the money Alertness on part of Mountain in getting Pleasant View Belle away from the post with an advantage enabled he to win.

Arrow Swift and Vansel, both belonging to the ranks of in-an-outers, were in running moods today, and had the sixth between them all the way.

BUT ONE WINDSOR FAVORITE WINS.

Detroit, Mich., October 10 .- Today's results at Windsor told another tale of defeated favorites, Oleasa, winner of the fifth race, being the only public choice that made good. The winners in some of the events sprung from most unexpected quarters and some of the reversals were as startling as they were sudden.

The biggest disappointment of the afternoon was the poor showing of Ketchemike, favorite fourth race. Ketchemike opened at a short price, but steadily receded in the betting. Ante-post indications made Eonite look like the right one, but a series of interferences spoiled whatever chance the Pangle youngster might have had. When the start came, Riley left the post pulling Ketchemike up and, when he moved up, he elected to go to the outside and take the longest route. This move gave Padrone an advantage which it was impossible to overcome.

In the sixth race Cock Sure ran like a stake horse. He dashed into a long lead in the first furlong and in the run down the backstretch increased his advantage to fifteen lengths. Delaby took a restraining hold of him in the final furlong and, after being eased up, he won by ten lengths and had a five lengths' advantage as the winning nark was passed.

Avaunteer made a runaway affair of the feature a mile handicap, in which he beat Colonel Jack out a length. Avaunteer was the extreme outsider in the betting.

Bernhardt put up a rattling good ride on Merry George in the steeplechase, and landed him an easy winner from Butwell. At the first jump one of the stirrup irons on Merry George's saddle broke und Bernhardt was almost unseated. He scrambled back into the saddle and for the remainder of the rip rode with but one stirrup.

Here are the weights for the Autumn Handicap at a mile, to be run Saturday: Ben Stille, Cooney K., 103; Peter Sterling, 120; Shine On, 100 Reside, 90; Goes Fast, 86; Canopian, 95; Frescati, 80; Colonel Jack, 110; King of Troy, 101; Dog Rose, 95; Redondo, 90; Hamiltar, 90; Ormonde's Right. FINCH-CARTHAGE EXCHANGE.

There is often a strong eastern disposition consider it old Phil Finch's day and time when ne starts. Phil Finch has come to be regarded by many speculators as a horse that just must win sometime, and so they keep plugging away at him. Enough money has been lost on him to buy him twenty times over.

The only reasons for it all are that he was once -like Red Friar-a good horse and is still in ac tion. Nowadays his admirers are in the mood to wait for him at New Orleans. As a matter of fact, Phil Finch has been a tough proposition in a racing way to both his owner and the public since he was bid up and taken from Captain Jim Williat Latonia. Williams retaliated by claiming Carthage from J. B; Respess and got by far the best of the enforced change. Since it Phil Finch has run eleven races with this record in a financial

BOOKMAKER-OWNER RULING.

Lexington, Ky., October 10 .- The State Racing Hopper in his refusal to permit J. U. The commission, however, so construed the rule as to permit any bookmaker owning horses to lease their running qualities to another pe ing the term of racing in this state, and left the question of the genuineness of such lease or bill of sale entirely with the judges at the meetings.

KEENE STABLE SUCCESSES.

GRANDSIRE, SIRE AND SON A WONDER-FUL TRIO OF INDIVIDUALS.

Domino, Commando and Colin the Modern Tools Used by the Grand Old Sportsman-How Domino Was Acquired.

Now in the autumn of his life, James R. Keene, for thirty years prominent in turf affairs in three countries-America, England and France-has been vouchsafed his most sucessful year in point of prestige achieved and money won by horses bred at his Castleton Stud, in Kentucky. Many who have from time to time noted the steady increases of the stable's earnings have asked from what came such success, writes Joseph E. Burke in the New York Herald. It may not be too much to say that the greatest contributing cause was the foundation laid fifteen years ago in the almost accidental purchase of the little black whirlwind, Domino, whom other shrewd men, possibly on account of the lack of size in the horse, passed up. There lay founding of that wonderful trio of wonderful wonderful individuals, Domino, Commando and Colin (grandsire, sire and son), the like of which has never before been seen on the American turf. But of this pur chase and the interesting details as to how it all came about more later. True, before and after that Mr. Keene replenished his stud with the best blood to be had in English mares, and he had the great good fortune of having in his stud management the invaluable services of F. A. Daingerfield, his brother-in-law. Again, about seven years, ago, Mr. Keene engaged James Rowe to train his

This last was, in all probability, as wise a move as the great turfman ever made, for, looking over the whole field of professional horsemen, it is indeed difficult to find one in whom so many desirable requisites are combined.

Millions have been won by Mr. Keene on the turf in the thirty years of his connection with it, but even so, he cannot be said to have profited largely after his expenses are considered. A commission of $100,600 to W. L. Powers to replenish his stud with English mares, seven years ago, resulted in the purchase, among others, of Pastor-ella, the beautiful mother of the renowned Colin.

Year after year, beginning as far back as 1879, Mr. Keene has been a persistent buyer of the best. He bought Spendthrift in 1878 for $15,000, turned him over to Colonel Puryear, in New Jersey, and then won the Belmont Stakes of 1879 with this son of Australian, which could have won the Withers but for the fact that Mr. Keene preferred to win that race with Dan Sparling, his stable companion.

Mr. Keene bought many yearlings at the Kentucky sales, outbidding the Dwyers and others, and among others he got Foxhall, a son of King Alfonso, for $650, and entered him in many English stakes and the Grand Prix at Paris. He won the latter race in 1881, after having run second to the great Bend Or in the City and Suburban Handicap at Epsom. Unfortunately for Mr. Keene, Foxhall was not entered in the Derby, which was won by Mr. Lorillard's Iroquois. He achieved two notable victories in the fall of his three-year-old when he won the Cesarewitch and Cambridgeshire Handicaps, in the latter carrying 126 p cluding a fourteen-pound penalty, and his feat has never been equalled.

Thus, as far back as 1881, an unfortunate omission of Foxhall from the Derby prevented the possibility of his achieving the distinction of winning the great race, a task that for more years the family of Lord Derby, after whom the great race was named, has tried to achieve. stake was won by Lord Derby in 1788, but with the adoption of a change of colors-black jacket white cap-the various successors to the title of Lord Derby have failed to win the race. anxious was the present Lord Derby to win it last year that "Danny" Maher, the American who rode for the English nobleman, said with feeling that he would almost give one of his arms to win the Derby for his employer. Maher had already won the great race three times for other turfmen.

In 1883 the first Great Eastern Handican was run at Sheepshead Bay, and James R. Keene's Dutch Roller won it, ridden by Edward Garrison. That is the only time the classic has fallen to the "white, blue spots" of Mr. Keene. But nearly all the other great prizes of the American turf have The Suburban is a notable race not gone to him. yet won by him, however.

Handicap by Voter, and Sysonby ran a dead heat with Race King; the Saratoga Special by Sysonby and Colin; the Spinaway by Court Dress; the Tidal by Sysonby and Peter Pan; the Twin City Handicap by Wild Mint, and the White Plains by Voter and Conroy.

On June 6, 1892, came a day to Mr. Keene which will always live in his memory. On that day the Dixiana yearlings, bred annually by Barak G. Thomas, in Kentucky, were sold in New York city at Tattersall's, Seventh avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Mr. Keene sent for William Easton and asked him to look over the yearlings, as his own time was too valuable. Mr. Easton complied with Keene's request, and particularly called his attention to the brown colt by Himyar, out of Mannie Gray. This was a full brother to Correction, a filly raced by Messrs. Morris, and which had established a great record for speed, having in one race run half a mile in 461 seconds.

Mr. Keene and his son Foxhall spent a long time in careful examination of this colt. When, on the evening of Monday, June 6, 1892, the Dixiana year-lings were offered, the first on the list, the brother to Correction elicited only two bids. One was $2,000, made by David T. Pulsifer, owner of Tenny, the horse which at that time almost dominated the turf, as his great rival, Salvator, had been retired, and only Longstreet was left to do battle with Tenny for premier honors. Foxhall Keene offered the sec ond bid, $3,000, and the colt was knocked down to his bid for his father and himself.

Because of lack of competition for this colt, the Messrs. Keene could not understand why they got him so cheaply, and asked Major Thomas if there were any hidden defects. "I am not in the habit of selling yearlings without calling attention to their defects, if they have any," said the veteran breeder. "You need not take him; I will keep the colt if you do not want him." "No, no," answered both the Messrs, Keene, "your word is cutto self-black." quite sufficient."

Thus was laid the foundation of the greatest racing stable in America, for without Domino there would have been no Disguise, no Cap and Bells and no Commando; and without Commando there would have been no Colin, Peter Pan, Superman or Celt. There would have been no Court Dress, Pope Juan, Veil and others, daughters of Disguise, a sor of Domino, which won in England one of the $50,000 stakes there, and ran third in the Derby of 1900, won by Diamond Jubilee. Cap and Bells won the Oaks for Mr. Keene.

C. F. Knippel, San Francisco, Cal. Why do you t read paper regularly? The gap is there, not the formation.

W. H. H., Chicago. Thanks. It was an error. The distance of race 71313 was one and one-quarter tailes, not one and one-eighth miles.

J. A., Jr., Cincinnati, O. The stipulaton "or good" by Richter made his bet win, because it is manifest it was absolutely a good track that day every race showing it.

J. W. B., Chicago. The parlay won as a single show bet on Belitoone, being void as to Willis Green and McCarter, because the latter was scratched and there was no place price against the former.

Winner—Br. c, by Masetto—Palms (trained by J. K. Frayling).

Went to post at 3:46. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won cantering; second driving: third the same. Padrone forced Linda Lake along at a fast pace for the first quarter, then drew away into a long lead and was under restraint at the finish. Our Boy finished with a rush and just managed to get up in time to beat out Ketchemike. The latter was badly ridden, left at the post, being pulled up and then taking the overland route swung to the outside fence when entering the homestretch and came fast when loo late. Eonite was repeatedly interfered with and cut off. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.

Oleasa dashed into a long lead in the run down the backstretch, held her opponents safe all the way and was only cantering at the finish. Josephine E. closed up while rounding the turn into the homestretch and held Tyrolian safe when it came to the final drive. The latter broke slowly and was made too much use of in the early stages and tired. Raining Leaves ran a bad race and was given an easy ride. Family Talk finished well. Ericula showed speed. Went to post at 3:50. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third driving. Veil, wonderfully improved, after being reserved in close attendance on the pacemaker, drew out on the inside when straightened for home, but possibly was lucky to win. Gold Lady, away slowly, dropped to the rear early and went to the outside on the turn, then finished on the extreme outside with a cyclonic rush, but too late to get up. Danoscara, within striking distance always, challenged menacingly in the stretch, that tired finally. Killaloe closed up steadily in the last quarter and had no mishaps. Yankee Girl, shuffled to the rear quickly, closed a big gap in the last half and is in very good form. Kennyette set the pace fast for six furlongs and then retired as if short or stale. Littleton Maid ran poorly.

Danoscara, singly, show, 7 to 10; Kennyetto, singly, show, 3 to 1. Killaloe, singly, show, 3 to 5; Littleton Maid, singly, show, 4 to 1. No separate place betting.

NEW ENGLISH RIDING RECORD. somewhere named Frankie Williams who remembers

September 27 at Newbury, W. Higgs, the crack English lightweight jockey rode five winners in suc ssion, but was beaten on Alistair for the Manton Nursery Stakes.

W. Higgs Rides Five Successive Winners

at Newbury.

The following is a list of jockeys who have ridden five successive winners in England:

George Fordham, at Bibury Club Meeting (Stockbridge). Fred Archer, six in succession, at Lewes, August

1882; five at Chester, 1883; five at Windsor, May 24, 1884; six at Bibury Club (Stockbridge), 1884. S. Chandley, five (his only mounts), in succession at Pontefract Summer Meeting, July 6, 1893. "Tod" Sloan, five in succession at Newmarket, September 30, 1898

Tom Loates, five (his only mounts), at Windsor, May 2, 1896. C. Trigg, five in succession at Edinburgh, October 1902, and five at Worcester, October 25, 1906. W. Higgs, five successive wins, Newbury, Sep-W. Higgs, tember 27, 1907. When mapping out the Newbury course, Mr.

John Porter suggested there should be a perceptible rise to the winning post. Higgs was one of the first to be alive to the fact that the climb to the judges' box was a severe one, and those who watch his riding methods closely, find that he likes to make his winning effort and secure a lead of a length or two before commencing the rise. Then he knows it takes a good, game horse to get to him.

A curious coincidence in connection with Higgs' performance was that his mounts were numbered on the card 2, 4, 5, 2, 4, 5, in that order. Higgs has had three mounts in Newbury ups, and has won on each occasion, his previous successes having been achieved on Ramrod Fugleman, the latter sharing the honors with Man ton.

WINNER OF TWO GRAND NATIONALS

C. A. Rea, a resident of Brandon, Man., supplies the following interesting particular to the Winnipeg Telegram, respecting a double winner of the

Sir: Referring to letters which have recently appeared in the columns of some English sporting papers on the subject of two race horses, both named Peter Simple, I can, perhaps, supply a few particulars which may be of interest to your read ers regarding the bay steeplechaser Peter Simple This horse was by Patron, dam by Archer, and was bred by my grandfather near Wooler in Northumberland, by whom he was sold as a threeyear-old in 1845. While being led home from the sale in question, he broke loose and bolted and, getting entangled in the rope of his halter, fell and injured himself so severely that he was con-demned to be shot. He was, however, reprieved at the last moment and recovered, though he bore the marks of this accident all his life in the shape of broken knees He was next sold for a very small price to run a stage coach, but not proving a success this work, again changed hands for a good deal under one hundred dollars and became the of Joseph Atkinson, a farmer in the neighborhood, who discovered his merits, and for whom he won few minor races, and eventually passed into hands and accomplished the performance of twice winning the Grand National Steeplechase in the years 1849 and 1853.

Peter Simple has been described to me by my father as a horse with powerful loins and quarters and great propelling power, but with very indifferent shoulders, and as one of the worst back imaginable.

My cousin has a painting of Peter Simple as foal running with his dam. He is shown as a big, strong colt, while the mother is what we should now describe as a good looking broodmare of hunter type and scarcely shows the quality one would expect in the dam of a Grand National winner in these days.

SOME HUMOR OF THE TURF.

"How did the horse come out of his race?" in quired the curious man of an owner whose steed had been so inconsiderate as to run second, beaten

"Better than I did." was the answer.

A piker who had the Belle of Jessamine tip for second race at Brighton Beach October 5, handed $8 to "Bismarck," a bookmaker once famous in the days of Guttenberg as an attache and attendant of Fred Walbaum.

"Fifty-six to eight," said the German, who had s to 1 on his slate.

"No, sixty-four to eight," exclaimed the piker.
"It's fifty-eight to eight," cried Bismarck, scratching his head and thinking hard. Then his sheet writer whispered:

"Sixty-four," and Bismarck looked relieved.

"Speaking of jumpers and bad falls steeplechase riders have had reminds me of a session of the 'Poached Egg Club' of delightful memory at Saratoga a few years ago," said a cross-country enthusiast.

"Charlie Trevathan, who is dead and gone, was there, and a number of good fellows, including a gentleman rider of some years back for whom no jump was ever too stiff in his day. The steeplechasers had the floor, and the talk ran on accidents and the length of time riders had been put 'out' for after a fall.

"By the way," said Trevathan to the gentleman jockey, "how long were you 'out' the time Cyclone

"Twenty-nine days," replied the hard-riding one, imperturbably, "and that broke all previous rec ords.

an old Guttenberger as he glanced at the entries in the seventh race at Brighton Beach October 3. "Remember Marie Lovell and old Bill Lovell? There's a one-time jockey hop-scotching around them both well enough. "It was in the days when some of the boys not above laying up a heat on occasion, and old Bill had Marie Lovell in one day-well, say for work. Williams was up, and Bill said to him in the paddock: 'Now, Frank, this is a nice Don't hurt her.'

"Boomerang by Peep o'Day-Marie Lovell," mused

"Frank understood all right, but Marie Lovell got away from him and won by a block.

"Williams told the story the next day. 'Old Bill has about 110 acres down there in his place,' said he, 'and I think I covered every acre of it when he got after me.' "

At Latonia, October 7, Warner Griswell and Black Fox ran a race in which there was some rough riding, and out of it came this incident told by the Enquirer:

"Some people are born lucky. A man got a tip from a friend of his to get a bet on Hazel Patch early, so he walked into the ring immediately after Warner Griswell had passed under the wire just at time Jack Sheehan's book was a storm center. Jack had seen a foul, and he was willing to bet even money that the horse would be disqualified. The man with the Hazel Patch tin thought that the odds were on the next race and shoved up forty bones, got the ticket and hustled out to tell his friends about it. 'What t' hell is this?' asked his friend; 'you have a ticket here with disqualification written on it. What does that mean?

'I never bet on that horse, said the man, and they hustled back into the ring, and just then the little board was displayed. They went to Sheehan's cashier for an explanation and were informed that the ticket was a winner, as Warner Griswell had not been set back. 'Oh,' said the man, and pocketed the dough."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

H. K. Knapp, of the State Racing Commission, says that in all probability there will be no decision for a month by the Court of Appeals on the Empire City matter.

Arthur McKnight, who acceptably filled the post of starter at Seattle during the recent meeting. has been engaged with his two assistants to do the starting on the Texas circuit.

Mark Riordan, a bookmaker at work in the Belmont Park enclosure, fell to the floor while making up his odds for the fourth race Wednesday and was conveyed to his home after an examination by the track physician, Dr. Voorhees.

Robert Walden will take a big stable to New Orleans and will ship to the Crescent City immediately after Benning. The horses he will take south constitute the entire stable that runs in the name of his mother, Mrs. R. W. Walden, also that of Hennen and David Morris.

It is improbable that Belle of Jessamine, cut down in her last race, will be seen in public again. Walden bought the mare from Thomas Hayes for breeding purposes and he has about decided leave her at Bowling Brook and breed her to Chilton next spring. Chilton is a full brother to Perse verance and Brookdale Nymph, at the head of the
